A MIDNIGHT INJUNCTION

Issued Against Portsmouth Street Railway Company.

BY JUDGE W. B. MARTIN

That Road Seeks to Lay Track Across

the Property of the Port Norfolk

Land Company, Though Warned

to Desist by Directors—Exacting

Scenes and Fights Ensnue—Mr. John

L. Watson Arrested—Injunction.

The determination of the Portsmouth Street Railway to get into Port Norfolk territory has again got that road into the courts and caused the issuance of another injunction against the road.

This injunction was issued at midnight last night by Judge W. B. Martin, of the Court of Law and Chancery, and enjoins the Portsmouth Street Railway from entering upon the land of the Port Norfolk Land Company for the purpose of laying its tracks on the property of that company.

DISREGARDED WARNINGS.

In direct disregard to the warning of Messrs. H. S. Dorsie and M. W. Mason, directors of the Port Norfolk Land Company, the employees of the Portsmouth Street Railway on yesterday afternoon began to lay a track across the property of that land company on Broad street, Port Norfolk. For awhile it looked like trouble would ensue when twenty-five employees of the road began to lay the track, which would be torn up by the adherents of the land company as fast as laid.

THEY COME AGAIN.

They finally desisted in their work, and went back to Portsmouth, but it was not long before the workmen again appeared on the scene, this time, according to Mr. Mason, with Justice Alinsworth and a constable or two, and began to work under the protection of these county officers, so it is stated.

THE OFFICERS' ACTIONS.

Mr. Mason stated emphatically his disapproval of the action of these authorities in protecting the employees of the road in their unlawful trespassing, as the Port Norfolk Land Company alleges.

The Portsmouth street railway has tried for a year to enter this property, going to the courts to secure condemnation, and trying other methods. The land company has won every time so far.

INJUNCTION SECURED.

Last night, after the Port Norfolk Land Company officers saw that the work would be continued despite their warning, Mr. Mason stated that they decided to have no conflict of violence, so the taking of the injunction was decided upon. Messrs. Wool and White and H. H. Rumble, attorneys for the company, and Directors Dorsie and Mason went to Judge Martin and applied for an injunction. It was granted and was immediately served this morning sometime after midnight. The injunction will be heard by Judge Prentiss.

LIVELY TIMES.

Reports which reached the Virginian-Pilot at 11:40 o'clock this morning stated that the times had been lively where the work was going on. As far as the Portsmouth Street Railway employees would lay a tie or rail the adherents of the Port Norfolk Land Company would tear it up.

COME TO BLOWS.

Several times, it is stated, the opposing parties came to blows. No one was seriously hurt. The employees of the road continued to work far into the night.

Mr. John L. Watson, one of the stockholders of the Portsmouth Street Railway and a prominent citizen, was arrested several times during the night, it is said.

MEN CALLED IN.

It is said that at an early hour this morning a car was sent to the disputed point by the Portsmouth Street Railway to bring in its hands and special officers. It is presumed that an officer, with the injunction granted by Judge Martin, had reached the scene of the trouble and served the restraining order.

When Nature

Needs assistance it may be best to render it promptly, but one should remember to use only the most perfect remedies only when needed. The best and most simple and gentle remedy is the Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.

Mrs. Lucy A. Carroll III.

Yesterday's Virginian Sun says: Mrs. Lucy A. Carroll is in a critical condition at "Beaumont," the home of her son-in-law, Mr. William Lamban, on Bellona avenue, near Charles street extended. Mrs. Carroll received a fall about two weeks ago at "Beaumont" and dislocated her right hip. She had not at the time fully recovered from a severe attack of pneumonia, which she contracted while on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. A. R. Nash, in Norfolk, Va.

Musical and Literary Entertainment

The Charity Committee of the Epworth League of Queen Street M. E. Church will give a musical and literary entertainment in the lecture room of the church this evening at 8 o'clock. No admission fee will be charged, but a silver offering will be taken at the door. At the close of the entertainment, refreshments will be served.

We are now at work making College and School Medals. We will save you money if your order is placed with us.

THE GALE JEWELRY CO.

MONUMENT ERECTED.

TO MEMORY OF CORPORAL D. A. LASSITER, CO. B.

The monument to the memory of the late Corporal Daniel A. Lassiter, Co. B, Fourth Virginia regiment, was erected yesterday by the members of that company, which is known as the Norfolk City Guards. The monument is marble, about 7 feet high, and is a very beautiful design. It is the work of the Cooper Marble Works. On the face of the monument is this inscription:

"Erected to the memory of our comrade, Daniel A. Lassiter, Corporal Co. B, Fourth Virginia Regiment, Volunteer Infantry; born February 9, 1878; died at Camp Chase, Va., Jacksonville, Fla., October 7, 1898."
The company will probably hold unveiling exercises.

KINDERGARTEN CLASS.

WILL GIVE RECITAL TO-NIGHT AT NORFOLK COLLEGE.

At the Norfolk College this evening the kindergarten class will give a recital for the entertainment of the young, middle-aged and old. A program of twenty numbers has been arranged. There will be recitations, songs and plays by the little girls and boys. The kindergarten class is under the management of Miss Evelyn Nimmo, a most efficient teacher.

A NEW SCHOOL

To Take the Place of the Norfolk College.

Some of the Members of the Present Faculty are the Main Movers in the New Institution—Will Occupy the Same Building as Norfolk College.

While the formal announcement has not yet been made, the Virginian-Pilot has it on good authority and from several sources, that a high grade school or college will be opened up here to take the place of the Norfolk College for Young Ladies, which will close its career at its commencement, week after next. The new institution will have fine backing, and will begin its life with the advantage of much of the prestige of the Norfolk College since several of the faculty of the present institution are the main movers in the organization of this new school.

THE LOCATION.

The building on the corner of Granby street and College Place, now used by the Norfolk College, will be partly used by this new institution. It is said that one-half of this building will be arranged for use simply as school rooms. As the boarding feature of the Norfolk College will not be continued the entire building heretofore occupied by that institution will not be needed.

TO MEET A DEMAND.

The patrons of the Norfolk College were not willing for the institution to close in the first place, and it was at their instance that the new institution has been set on foot. It will continue the same higher academic courses as taught by the present college, and its principal will be one of the faculty of that college, who will within a short time make the formal announcement of the proposed new school.

You know what that tired feeling is and you may know that will cure it by giving Host's Sarsaparilla a fair trial.

HIS NAME IS PEACE.

YET HE IS NOTORIOUS IN SHOOTING SCRAPES AND FIGHTS.

Detectives Heppel and West made the arrest of a negro yesterday who had been eluding their sharp watch for two months. This negro was Frank Peace, whose name is decidedly a misnomer, since he has on multitudinous occasions disturbed the serenity of the community by the promiscuous firing of a six-shooter on days other than the Fourth of July or Christmas, and by other similar pastimes to which he has become habituated.

Peace, fresh from the jail two months ago, shot his pistol empty at two negroes, one of whom was Sam Smith, and also attacked another negro on the Old Dominion dock, using a spade as a weapon. A previous celebration of high spirits of a similar character gained for him a sentence of six months. He has also been identified with other shooting scrapes. He had cleverly kept away from the officers since his last offense until yesterday, when nabbed on Church street, after a quarter mile chase on a bicycle by Sergeant Heppel—a foot race through the new Port church street school yard to Church street and a cut de sac trip through Langhale's ice cream saloon, where the Sergeant brought him to bay. It was a pretty capture.

If your clothes are made by Rudolph & Wallace you wear the highest standard of excellence in merchant tailoring.

New Ice Cream Parlors.

The new ice-cream parlors of the Mettewee Dairy, at No. 19 Charlotte street, were formally opened for the season last night. Mr. J. H. Allen, the proprietor, has spared no pains or expense to make this place not only attractive, but to provide it with every convenience for most satisfactory service. The good taste, and evidences a careful attention to detail both as to his business office on the first floor and his parlors on the second, which are reached by a broad and beautiful stairway. The parlors are handsomely furnished and decorated, and provided with many cosy nooks, which are likely to become popular as the season advances. Mr. Allen has also provided himself with every facility for handling his large and rapidly increasing wholesale trade, and when completed will have one of the most complete ice-cream manufactories in the country.

THE CONVOCATION

Meeting of the Sunday School Institute.

Chaplain Walker's Address on the Sunday School, the Nursery of the Church. Proceedings of the Institute—Paper Read and Discussed.

Yesterday being the day set apart by the Norfolk Episcopal Convocation for holding the sixteenth session of the Sunday school institute, a large delegation of members were present to witness the proceedings, which are always of special interest to the members and adherents of that church.

The exercises were held at Galilee Chapel.

The services incident to the occasion began at 11 o'clock with the usual morning prayer, conducted by the dean, Dr. Tucker, assisted by Rev. Dr. C. E. Grammer and Rev. A. S. Lloyd.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Following this service was an address by Rev. Charles S. Walkley, post chaplain United States Army at Old Point.

The address was an admirable one, the subject being the "Sunday School, the Nursery of the Church." He spoke of its great importance as the field for the proper training of the young for Christ. He laid great emphasis on the duties of the superintendent, and said that in order to be successful in his office he must first have a knowledge of God and His word, and second, that he must be a man of thorough consecration, having his own heart filled with the grace of God, and these requisites will give him a true conception of his duties. He must endeavor to teach the truth to those under him, namely, the Sunday school teachers, and they in turn must apply the truth to their own hearts and lives so as to enable them to impart it to the scholars, and this was not to be a simple theoretical knowledge of the truth, but it must be so taught as to take hold of their spiritual nature and thereby produce the peaceable fruits of righteousness.

The administration of the Holy Communion followed. The beautiful and impressive sacrament was administered by the dean, Dr. Tucker, assisted by Revs. Lloyd and Savage. There were a large number of communicants.

SUNDAY SCHOOL INSTITUTE.

The Sunday School Institute was called by Rev. C. B. Bryan, of Hampton, on whose motion Mr. L. N. Wilcox, of Portsmouth, was called to the chair.

The session was opened with singing and prayer by Rev. Lloyd.

The minutes of the fall meeting held in St. John's Church, Hampton, in November, 1898, were read by the secretary, Mr. John L. Ewart.

Rev. J. B. Dunn, of Suffolk, read an able and carefully prepared paper on "Primary Teaching in the Sunday School." The paper set forth, first, that the primary class in the Sunday school is a beautiful sight, and yet there is in the very fact of an infant class the evidence often of an unnatural state of affairs. The natural instructors of those of tender years are father and mother. The Sunday school should be the help, not the substitute for the home teaching, which is too often the case. The teacher stands as loca parentis, and his delegated authority needs the most careful guarding.

There is a distinction between authority and dominion. Authority is exercised over men; dominion over brutes. Even the brute, however, is elevated when dominion ceases to be the mere exercise of power and has a guiding rather than a compelling element. The result of the right exercise of authority is obedience. The result of dominion is subjection.

By conferring the highest freedom upon the pupil the teacher is cultivating the only safe obedience. Teach the child knowledge of God, of the relation in which we stand to Him and to each other, members of God's family.

The Bible is the chief source of information on this subject. It is the revelation of God's will to man.

The three divisions of religious knowledge are doctrine, precept and principle. Doctrine constitutes our faith, and precept is that which directs true principles.

Learning without thought is labor lost. Thought without learning is dangerous.

They who know the truth are not equal to those who love it, and those who love it are not equal to those who find pleasure in it.

The paper was discussed by Revs. Lancaster and Roberts, the former concluding with the views set forth in the paper, the latter holding the ground that while it took a high plane it was open to criticism, especially on the question as to when the doctrines of the church should be taught the child, the speaker holding the ground that it should be at the earliest age possible.

Rev. C. B. Bryan followed in an excellent address on the topic "Sunday School Work—Theory and Duty."

A RECESS.

At 1:30 p. m. the institute took a recess for dinner until 2:45 p. m. An elegant luncheon, prepared by the ladies of East Lynnhaven parish, was served in the dining room of the Infant Sanitarium.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

At 2:45 p. m. the institute reassembled, when Miss Clara M. Snow conducted a "Model Lesson" with an infant class of a highly interesting character.

The question box was next opened, and a number of questions regarding the Sunday school were asked, all of which received prompt and intelligent answers.

A vote of thanks was tendered the ladies of East Lynnhaven parish and the Rev. R. W. Savage for the princely manner in which they had entertained the institute.

The institute adjourned to meet in Smithfield November next. Prayer and benediction by Rev. Dr. C. E. Grammer.

Rev. J. F. Burks, of Accomac, preached at the chapel last night.

Relieve Six Hours.

Distressing Kidney and Bladder disease relieved in six hours by "New Great South American Kidney Cure." It is a great surprise on account of its exceeding promptness in relieving pain in bladder, kidneys and back, in male or female. Relieves retention of water almost immediately. If you want quick relief and cure this is the remedy. Sold by Walke & Martin, druggists, 108 Water Street, Norfolk, Va.

PROPERTY AT AUCTION.

FERTILIZER FACTORY WITH-DRAWN—BID IN BY TRUSTEES.

The Reese Manufacturing Company's fish fertilizer factory, together with thirteen acres of land, upon which the factory is situated, and several tenant's houses, at the mouth of Back river, Elizabeth City county, was put up at auction in that county Wednesday by Mr. Ivor A. Reese, trustee in bankruptcy, but as the highest bid was only $1,250, the property was withdrawn. This was not considered anywhere near the value of the property, and the trustee will make a report to the court and another order of sale will probably be entered.

The property of which Mr. George W. Dey and others were trustees and which was advertised for sale by C. H. Ferrall & Co., Wednesday, was bid in by the trustees.

Country Club's Field Sports.

The governing board of the Country Club held a meeting last night at the home of Hon. Barton Myers, on Freemason street for the purpose of furthering the arrangements for the field sports to be held by the club from June 6th to 12th, inclusive.

The program has not yet been announced, but will be about as outlined in the Virginian-Pilot yesterday. The club will arrange to have music by the Naval Post Band, or some other band every evening during the continuation of the tournaments.

OLD POINT NOTES

Inspection of Some of Uncle Sam's Ships.

The Training Ships Essex and Alliance.

and Supply Ship Glacier—The Prairie Seeks Safety Here.

The Naval Board of Inspectors, headed by Rear Admiral Rogers, has begun the work of inspecting the apprentice training ships Essex and Alliance and the gunnery practice ship Lancaster in Hampton Roads.

THE GLACIER.

The board also inspected the supply ship Glacier, preparatory to her voyage to Manila, with provisions for the army and navy. The ship was put through her paces, making a fast run to the capes and return. Her general satisfactory test, it is stated, was quite satisfactory to the board. She will probably not be detained longer.

THE ALLIANCE.

Orders have been given at the navy yard for a main top-sail yard for the training ship Alliance. This is about all the repairs that she will get, as it is understood that ship is in a very good condition. She may, however, be ordered to have her bottom cleaned and perhaps some patching to her copper sheathing.

THE PRAIRIE SEEKS SAFETY.

The cruiser Prairie, which is exercising the Naval Militia of the different States, has put into Hampton Roads with the Naval Reserves of North Carolina for the purpose of having two days' practice with sub-calibre guns. The sea was too rough to permit this practice outside and it was found necessary to bring the vessel into smooth water. At the conclusion of the practice in Chesapeake bay the Prairie will take the North Carolina Reserves out to sea again and land them at Wilmington. The Prairie is now bound for Washington, D. C.

The members of the various State and Provincial Boards of Health of North America, who have been attending the conference at Richmond, came here yesterday in a special Chesapeake and Ohio car. They spent the day in sight-seeing. The invitation had been extended by Dr. Paulus A. Irving, secretary of the State Board of Health of Virginia, on behalf of that body. The excursionists returned to Richmond about 7 o'clock yesterday evening.

N. & W. to Richmond or Petersburg, $1.00.

Round trip Sunday June 4th leaves Norfolk 8:10 a. m. returning leaves Richmond 8:00 p. m. on a special fast train. Good rain or shine, trunks and bicycles carried free. Strict order will be maintained.
